Quiz Night

Don't forget it is the Quiz Night tonight. Arrive at 7:45 for an 8:00 pm start. If you have not yet bought tickets, you are still welcome to come along with a team or to join a team. Cost £5 per person.

Snowy weather

I would like to say a big thank you to Jason Pethybridge and Gill Baldry for clearing the snow we had this week, so well.

Sponsored times table challenge

Over half term, we will be challenging children to learn their tables in line with the new National Curriculum and to earn sponsorship in doing so. The funds raised will be used to buy additional maths equipment. Look out next week for more information.

Plimsolls

If you have unwanted plimsolls that your children have outgrown, we would like spare pairs donated to the school for children who forget to bring their PE footwear. We are desperate for sizes smaller than 11 and bigger than size 1. Thank you.

Parking

Imagine the situation where you are a Headteacher who repeatedly asks parents to park safely and legally regularly in the Newsletter, in person and by telephone and then you receive communication from a neighbour telling you that too many parents are parking irresponsibly and hold you responsible. I would be very grateful if you could all help me out with this one as I cannot police adult behaviour outside the school gates.

No make-up please

It is not appropriate nor in line with school policy for primary school children to wear make-up to school. Please ensure your children follow school policy.

Our football team represented themselves well in the first half of the match this week against St. Mary's. At half time it was 2-2 but, unfortunately, we lost 4-2 by the end of the match.
